The College Board is a not-for-profit membership association whose mission is to connect students to college success and opportunity. Founded in 1900, the association is composed of more than 4,500 schools, colleges, universities, and other educational organizations. Each year, the College Board serves over three million students and their parents, 23,000 high schools, and 3,500 colleges through major programs and services in college admissions, guidance, assessment, financial aid, enrollment, and teaching and learning. Among its best-known programs are the SAT[®], the PSAT/NMSQT[®], and the Advanced Placement Program[®] (AP[®]). The College Board is committed to the principles of excellence and equity, and that commitment is embodied in all of its programs, services, activities, and concerns.

Lydia, when you praise the rosy neck
of Telophus,
when you praise the brazen arms
of Telophus,
my burning liver swells with bile.
Then neither my face nor my hands
are able to maintain their complexion
and it becomes clear how deeply tortured
I am by gentle fires.

When you, Lydia, praise the rosy cheeks of Telephus, and the ~~long~~^{smooth} neck of Telephus, fever comes to me and ~~my~~ my throat rises with difficult bile. Then neither my mind nor my colour remains sure in me, and a hue slips stealthily into my cheeks and I am burned, struggling, by a slow fire as punishment

C

Cydia, when you praise the rasey neck of Telephus,
(when you praise) the supple arms of Telephus,
alas my burning liver swells with angry bile.

Then neither my mind nor my complexion remain:
in (its) fixed abode, and a tear glides secretly
upon (my) cheeks, (a tear) proving how deeply
I am tortured by lingering fires.
