

AP Latin Vergil 2000 Student Samples

The materials included in these files are intended for non-commercial use by AP teachers for course and exam preparation; permission for any other use must be sought from the Advanced Placement Program. Teachers may reproduce them, in whole or in part, in limited quantities, for face-to-face teaching purposes but may not mass distribute the materials, electronically or otherwise. These materials and any copies made of them may not be resold, and the copyright notices must be retained as they appear here. This permission does not apply to any third-party copyrights contained herein.

These materials were produced by Educational Testing Service (ETS), which develops and administers the examinations of the Advanced Placement Program for the College Board. The College Board and Educational Testing Service (ETS) are dedicated to the principle of equal opportunity, and their programs, services, and employment policies are guided by that principle.

The College Board is a national nonprofit membership association dedicated to preparing, inspiring, and connecting students to college and opportunity. Founded in 1900, the association is composed of more than 3,900 schools, colleges, universities, and other educational organizations. Each year, the College Board serves over three million students and their parents, 22,000 high schools, and 3,500 colleges, through major programs and services in college admission, guidance, assessment, financial aid, enrollment, and teaching and learning. Among its best-known programs are the SAT[®], the PSAT/NMSQT[™], the Advanced Placement Program[®] (AP[®]), and Pacesetter[®]. The College Board is committed to the principles of equity and excellence, and that commitment is embodied in all of its programs, services, activities, and concerns.

Copyright © 2001 by College Entrance Examination Board. All rights reserved. College Board, Advanced Placement Program, AP, and the acorn logo are registered trademarks of the College Entrance Examination Board.

Question V2

Write in the box the number of the question you are answering on this page as it is designated in the examination.

A

The mind of human beings, unaware of fate and future ~~to~~ lot raised up with favorable situations, does not know how to keep moderation. There will be a time for great Turnus when he will have wished that Pallas had been bought untouched, and when he will [have] hated) ~~the~~ those spoils and the the day. But the ~~to~~ companions carry in frequent numbers carry back Pallas ~~piece~~ having been placed on the shield with much groaning and tears. O grief and great honor ~~at~~ about to be returned to your parent (father)...

V2

Write in the box the number of the question you are answering on this page as it is designated in the examination.

Mind of men, unknowing of fates and future lots, and how to guard the way, overcome by favorable things!
 There will be a time for great Turnus when he will wish Pallas intact and when he will hate these spoils and the day. But his allies, with much groaning and tears, brought back Pallas placed back on the shield. O grief and great glory about to return to the parent.....

V2

Write in the box the number of the question you are answering on this page as it is designated in the examination.

F

Unknowing mind of the seer, of men and future fates, and having been raised to guard ~~the~~ the way of favorable things! There will be a time to Turnus when he will have wished to buy an untouched Pallas for a great price, and when he will have hated these spoils and (his) day. But the allies, having positioned the body with a groan and with much tears, bring back Pallas with a frequent wail. ~~grief~~ ~~and his great grief, deserved to be returned to the parent~~ O, ~~grief to be~~ deserved grief, and the return (of the) great one to the parent (is deserved)